Story Building

This story is about Jack. Change the following sentences to make them about a woman called Sophie. Change Jack to Sophie and 'he' to 'she.'

Jack put some flowers in the garden. "Good!" he said.

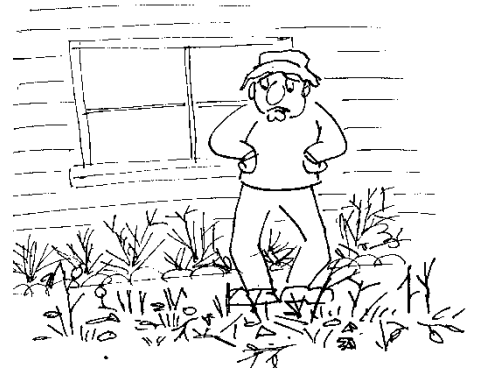

Soon the rain came. "Good!" he said.

Soon the snails came. "That's no good," he said.

The snails ate the flowers. Jack was upset.

Jack went to the market. He got a duck.

"Good!" he said. "It will eat the snails."

Jack put some more flowers in the garden. "Good!" he said.

Soon the rain came. "Good!" he said.

Soon the snails came.

The duck ate the snails. "Good!" he said.

Then the duck ate the flowers. "That's no good," he said.

Jack was upset.

"That's it," said Jack. "No more flowers. No more snails.

And no more duck."

Jack ate the duck for dinner!
